MEDICINAL. MOTHERS

and those about to become mothers, should know that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the best medicine for the system for preparing the system for parturition. It is a "labor" and the period of confinement is greatly shortened. It also promotes an abundant secretion of nourishment for the child.

South Bend, Pacific Co., Wash.
DR. R. V. PIERCE, Buffalo, N. Y.:
"Dear Sir:—I began taking your 'Favorite Prescription' the first month of pregnancy, and have continued taking it since confinement. I did not experience the nausea or any of the ailments due to pregnancy, after I began taking your 'Favorite Prescription.' I was only in labor a short time, and the physician said I got along unusually well."

KENTUCKY'S FAMOUS FEUD.

The French-Eversole feud has started afresh in Perry county, Ky. Bob May, an ex-member of the Kentucky legislature, and one of the principals on the Eversole side, is at Big Stone Gap, Va., from Hazard, the seat of the county and of the war. Judge Josiah Combs, the father-in-law of the dead Eversole leader, is dead. The leader of the French faction, whose name was Frazier French, and two others of his faction have been arrested for his murder, and more trouble will follow.

Judge Combs was 70 years old and lived in Hazard. Early on Sunday morning, two weeks ago, he stepped across the street where young Cash Eversole and two others were talking. A rifle cracked from the corn field just over the fence and the bullet struck the old man in his breast, and he fell. Cash Eversole wheeled and saw a man with a blackened face spring up and dash through the corn field. He says the man was Joe Adkins. At the same time other Frenches began firing and shouting from another direction to divert attention from Adkins. Young Cash with several others ran across a little spur and hid themselves in a ravine. Three men with blackened faces soon appeared, who, the Eversoles said, were Adkins, Frazier and Leslie Field. As they climbed over a bank Will Martin, a boy in the Eversole crowd, fired and killed Frazier, the other two escaped, but were captured later with Fulton French in Breathitt county. Adkins is said to have escaped, but French and Fields are held. They are trying to get the county judge to come to the Breathitt line and try them, as they are afraid to go to Hazard.

Judge Combs died in a few hours. He had never taken part in the feud, though he was a man of wealth and in sympathy with the Eversoles, and had always tried to get the Frenches to trial. It was his influence that was feared.

Adkins is a noted desperado. More than thirty men have been killed in this feud in the last half a dozen years. It began with the killing of the head of the Confederate Gambrills, a Union Eversole during the war. Soon the Gambrills killed the Eversole leader, and desultory fighting went on after the war until 1884. Then Fulton French came from Virginia to Hazard and taught school and read law with Joe Eversole, the leader of the Eversole faction. The Eversoles were the richest and strongest family in the county and had a store in Hazard, which was the republican headquarters.

French rented this store from Joe Eversole for a year, and opened with his clerk, Bob May. French and May disagreed, and May opened just across the street and made his store the democratic headquarters of the town. When French's year was up Eversole sent him word that he must move out. French refused for some reason, and on the day the lease expired Eversole drove into town with twenty wagons of goods, moved French into the street, and opened the store the next morning himself.

That started the war. The Gambrills took sides with the Frenches against their old foes, and May and Eversole, though political enemies, joined their forces, and in time there were a hundred men on each side. The deadly mutual bitterness probably will outlive this generation. Sheriffs, lawyers, and judges have been with the Eversoles. French is said to have hired many of his fighters. May has left Hazard, he says, through fear of assassination.

Every mother should know that croup can be prevented. The first symptom of true croup is hoarseness. This is followed by a peculiar rough cough. If Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is given freely as soon as the child becomes hoarse or even after the cough has developed it will prevent the attack. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by L. Stabler & Co.

MARRIED TO ESCAPE HIS CREDITORS.

A few days ago James McEwen, who is a stonemason of Hamilton, O., had his wages garnished by a Hamilton business man, and had to pay up. He called on 'Squire McGreevey' next afternoon, and asked if a married man could be garnished. The squire replied in the negative, whereupon McEwen handed him $2 as a retainer fee, and told him to call at the corner of Burnett and Water streets next evening and there would be a woman there for the ceremony. The same night the squire was driven in a cab to the place agreed upon. The fair one—Annie Harrison—was on hand, and in less time than it takes to tell, the squire made them man and wife. McEwen was so happy in the fact that he can no longer be garnished that he handed the squire $3 more for his trouble. The groom is twenty-seven years old, and the bride thirteen years his senior.
